Benefit Reference Guide Frequently Asked Questions & Answers

Revised:
September, 2017

Enrollment Periods

Most insurance benefits will become effective on your first day of employment provided you return your enrollment forms within thirty (30) days of your hire date. The effective date for the dental HMO and/or vision plans is the first of the month following your hire date. The effective date for Voluntary Life/AD&D insurance and Voluntary Long Term Disability Insurance is the latter of date of eligibility or approval date of application.

Benefit choices remain in effect from your hire date until the next open enrollment period or during a Special Enrollment if you experience a qualifying event such as a marital status change (e.g.-marriage/divorce), birth/adoption, death of spouse, and/or involuntary loss of other coverage. You must notify HR-Benefits and make changes within 30 days of the qualifying event.

Medical Insurance: Blue Cross/Blue Shield (BCBS)

What is an HMO?

A health maintenance organization (HMO) contracts with health care professionals and facilities to create a "provider network."

If you sign up for this plan, you must choose a primary care provider (PCP) and a medical group to coordinate your care. If your current physician is not in the plan, you will have to find another doctor, or pay to see your current physician.

This plan will not pay for non-emergency care if it's performed by an out-of-network physician or facility. You'll also need a referral from your PCP to see a specialist.

Why choose the HMO?: In general, HMOs offer you the lowest out-of-pocket costs for your care as long as you stay in the network.

Why not choose the HMO?: The tradeoff is that your access to care outside the network is extremely limited.

What is a PPO?

A preferred provider organization (PPO) also enters into contractual agreements with health care providers and creates a "provider network." But unlike the HMO plan, the PPO health insurance will cover some – but not all – of the cost of care administered by out-of-network providers.

Why choose the PPO?: If you select a PPO, you will have low co-pays as long as you see in-network physicians. Another advantage of PPO insurance is that unlike an HMO, you do not need a primary care physician's permission to see a specialist (as long as the specialist is in network).

Why not choose the PPO?: PPOs have a few disadvantages. Going out of network has a higher co-insurance. However, unlike the HMO plan, the PPO plan generally will pick up at least some of the cost of out-of-network care.

In summary, PPO health insurance offers a wider range of access than HMO insurance, but your out-of-pocket costs tend to be higher than your in-network ones.

Flexible Spending Account (FSA)

What is a Flexible Spending Account (FSA)?

A FSA allows you to tax shelter certain health and dependent child/elder care expenses as prescribed by law, that are not covered by the insurance.

HFSA -These funds can be eligible healthcare expenses for you and your family, even if they are not enrolled in your group health plan. Eligible Health FSA expenses include medical, dental and vision expenses not covered by insurance; such as, doctor and prescription copays, dental expenses, vision expenses and drugs taken to treat a medical condition.

DCFSA- The Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account enables you to pay for out-of-pocket, work related dependent day-care cost with pre-tax dollars. Generally, an eligible child must be under age 13 and share your same principal residency for more than half the year.

COBRA and HIPAA

The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA) allows those who would otherwise lose their insurance coverage to continue the coverage at their own expense for a limited period of time. New employees receive an initial COBRA notification and severed employees receive information about their COBRA rights when they leave the College. Please note should you have a change in status that could impact insurance eligibility (i.e. divorce, marriage, birth/adoption, etc.), you must notify HR/Benefits within thirty (30) days of the event.

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) has two primary purposes.

- 1. It allows for portability of insurance- HIPAA ensures that if you were to leave employment, you would be able to enroll in a plan somewhere else with proof of prior creditable coverage.
- 2. It makes employers accountable to protect the privacy of personal health information (PHI)-We keep all insurance records separate from other personnel records and limit access to those who have a right to know such as our insurance carriers and third-party administrators (TPAs). Additionally, all billing is password protected in order to protect privacy and confidentiality.

FMLA/ADA/Sick Pool

This time can be taken consecutively or intermittently and you are eligible if you have worked 1,250 hours during the past 12 months. During FMLA time, benefits continue at your normal contribution and your job is protected.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Employees in need of accommodations should contact Marilyn Prentice, ADA/Section 504 Coordinator for employees and visitors. The College's assessment of an individual's needs and the availability of reasonable accommodations will be made on a case-by-case basis.

If eligible, the Long-Term Disability insurance program can replace up to 65% of your income (or 15% more than SURS). You can be awarded benefits through both SURS and the Voluntary Long-Term Disability program, however, they will offset each other.
